

GOV. HOFFMAN GRANTS HAUPTMANN REPRIEVE

GRANGE DRAFTS 10-POINT PLAN REPLACING AAA

National Unit In First
Break With Administration Program

CONGRESS ASKED TO TAKE ACTION

Farm Leaders Question
Advisability of Rewriting AAA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The National Grange, dean of organized farm groups in America, submitted to the senate agricultural committee yesterday a 10-point program for a new national plan to replace AAA.

Grange officials said it represented a crystallizing of farm sentiment against a constitutionally-questionable re-writing of AAA to control agricultural production through subsidized soil conservation.

Break With Administration

In the first definite break with administration plans to draft a bill replacing AAA principles along lines adopted by Secretary Wallace's farm conference last week, the grange asked congress to provide:

1. Appropriation to provide for the completion of contracts entered into in good faith and partially carried out by American farmers.

2. A soil conservation program through wise rotation of crops and through a system of government rentals to build up national resources.

3. Speed up the retirement of marginal and sub-marginal lands for foresting, conservation, recreational and wild life uses.

Dealing With Surpluses

4. Retain and expand the surplus commodity corporation to deal with agricultural surpluses by the following means:

(A) Maintain an ever-normal granary for farm storage and commodity loans.

(B) Export surpluses, using the export debenture and other measures best suited.

(C) Provide new and industrial uses for farm produce with special attention to by-products.

(D) Develop new crops and new markets.

(E) Furnish relief supplies.

Discusses Second Coming of Christ

Evangelist M. R. Searles spoke last evening at the Lighthouse tabernacle, 175 West State st., on the subject, "The Second Coming of Christ."

He took as his text the words found in St. John 14:3: "I will come again." He brought out the old testament scriptures about the first coming of Christ to this earth and stated how these were fulfilled in detail. He then presented the prophecies regarding his second coming to prove that Christ would surely and certainly return again, and that soon.

Rev. Searles has announced as his subject for tonight, "Divine Healing: Is It for Us Today?" At 8:30 p. m. Sunday he will give the second dispensational chart lecture from the "Scroll of Time."

The evangelist stated this morning that he will broadcast a 15-minute program each evening before the service over a public address system. The revival services will continue through this month, every night except Mondays. They are open to the public.

Greenford Man, 84, Prizes His Collection Of Relics

Freeman Rupright, Husky 6-Footer, Recalls Oiltown, Other Events of Past

Freeman Rupright and a corner of his relics display in Greenford.

GREENFORD, Jan. 16.—This little community has welcomed a new resident.

He is Freeman Rupright, 84, ardent collector of Indian and other historical relics, who has moved in with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clay of the Greenford-New Albany road on R. D. 4, Salem.

At the request of his daughter, Rupright consented to abandon his solitary life at his homestead in New Buffalo, seven miles east of here. His wife died two years ago.

Rupright, who could fill the shoes of any one of Isaac Walton's ablest followers, always has enjoyed the great outdoors.

Through his many years of experiences in the wooded areas through this section trudging mile after mile hunting and trapping, Rupright has become a real outdoorsman.

Until only a few years ago he went barefooted during the summer months.

Rupright, whose German ancestors spelled their name Ruprecht, towers slightly more than six feet and despite his 84 years his shoulders are stooped only slightly.

Doesn't Read Much
"No, I don't read much," he told his visitor. "I don't care much about national affairs or this New Deal they talk about. Why, the last time I voted was for Grover Cleveland."

Nevertheless Rupright has a keen mind and can recall many old happenings.

His daughter, Elmore, with whom he now resides, and another daughter, Mrs. Celia Swank of Canfield, can tell you his chief hobby is his prized museum collection which they helped him transfer from his New Buffalo home.

Rupright grew up there as a boy and had lived in that district continuously. He was born Aug. 25, 1852. He was married Sept. 5, 1880. New Buffalo was once the famous Oiltown, where men swarmed from the east to become wealthy over night by frying oil out of rich coal. Rupright recalls the feasts and gay parties that were evident in Oiltown at that time. He was then only eight years old.

He started as a lad of 14 in driving yoke cattle on his father's place.

Welfare Workers Will Meet Tonight

LISBON, Jan. 16.—A conference of child welfare workers will be held in the courthouse here tonight, headed by Probate Judge Homer W. Hammond.

It is the opinion of Judge Hammond that the care of children is now the uppermost subject before the court, and that because of the existing situation in this county, the court is soliciting the aid of other groups and individuals in child welfare work in local communities.

Committees will be appointed at this session to name officers for the recently formed organization, and representatives will be selected to aid the court in child welfare work in local communities.

W. & J. President Speaks at Alliance

ALLIANCE, Jan. 16.—Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, president of Washington and Jefferson college, Washington, Pa., will deliver the principal address on the mid-year commencement program at Alliance High school Friday evening, Jan. 24.

Diplomas will be presented to approximately 197 graduates.

Workers Escape As Alliance Mill Falls

ALLIANCE, Jan. 16.—A dozen workers escaped injury Wednesday when a three story section of the Warner mill grain elevator collapsed at 9:45 a. m. and spilled between 5,000 and 7,000 bushels of wheat on the ground outside.

Downward pressure of the grain as it was being drawn out to reduce the overload was blamed by Ralph Warner, owner and operator. The building, of brick construction, was erected in 1932. It is located at E. Prospect and Arch sts. Most of the wheat can be retrieved, Warner said.

Merchants Receive Government Checks

Federal checks have been received by local merchants who handled relief orders last month. Mrs. Winifred Hill, city relief supervisor, said today. The disbursement was made from the county office.

Mrs. Hill said the merchants could submit their relief invoices on the first and 15th of each month if they so desired. Several December invoices have not yet been mailed to the city hall relief office.

Rob Coal Office

LISBON, Jan. 16.—The Bruce Coal Co. near Gilmore, reported to the sheriff's office today that thieves broke into the company office and stole a motor, drum and 90 feet of wire cable Wednesday night.

SENATE, HOUSE IN DEADLOCK ON RELIEF ACTION

Lower Branch Insists On Passage of Original Bill

SENATOR YODER'S
VIEW IS DIFFERENT

Holds Out for Distribution By Budget
Method

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 16.—Indefinite continuation of the legislative deadlock over relief appeared likely today when Speaker J. Freer Bittinger declared the house would insist upon passage of its original relief bill.

Sen. Paul P. Yoder, Democratic floor leader, said the senate would hold out for distribution of relief funds by the budget plan to which Bittinger objects.

Bill Is Amended

The house approved relief bill would provide $10,000,000 for all of 1936, the money to be allocated on a basis of need. The senate amended the bill to provide $10,500,000 for six months, to be allocated on a basis of population and counties' relief expenditures during the first six months of 1936.

Bittinger favors a salaried relief commission, or an unsalaried commission to act as an advisory body to a salaried state relief director. The senate amendments would establish an unsalaried commission and limit other salaries to $150 a month. Bittinger said he thought a state director should be paid perhaps $3,600 a year.

Push Budget Bill

Republican members of the house finance committee pushed for passage of a senate revised $90,418,263 biennial budget bill today despite Gov. Martin L. Davey's threat of veto unless it is cut $800,000.

Chairman Julian W. Schweller (D. Putnam) told the committee it "faced the necessity of reducing the bill by $800,000 as the governor says he will veto the entire measure unless this is done."

In answer, Rep. Frank Grubbs (D. Fayette) said: "It is disgusting that we as a finance committee should be called upon to surrender our judgment to one man. I am in favor of recommending passage of the bill as it stands."

Successful Year Reviewed as Club
Members Hold Annual Meeting and Elect Directors

Re-election of five directors and reports of committees featured the annual meeting of the Salem Golf club at the club house Wednesday night.

Directors F. R. Pow, R. K. Yates and Dr. J. M. McGeorge of Salem, W. W. Beck of Lisbon, and N. J. McKeefrey of Leontonia, were re-elected.

Under the leadership of President G. R. Gibson, who presided last night, the club had a successful season last summer and is in a satisfactory condition. Its financial condition was greatly improved during the year, the course was well maintained with three new greens under way, and the membership increased to 125.

Committee reports were submitted by the following: Greens and grounds, R. W. Campbell; entertainment, R. S. McCulloch; house, Louis Probst; membership, S. J. Watkins; ladies, Mrs. W. P. Carpenter; contest, N. I. Walker.

Dinner preceded the meeting last night. The directors will meet next month to elect officers.

Airplanes, Stamps, Birds and Other Subjects Interest Junior High Pupils In Spare Time

The theory that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and Jill a dull girl has come into its own at the Salem Junior High school.

Several years ago, extra curricular activities were few and not greatly encouraged at Junior High. Students had nothing to look forward to but study periods and class room recitations.

However, a change has taken place.

To relieve the burdens of their regular school work, the seventh and eighth grade students of the Fourth st., building now support nine clubs which meet once and sometimes twice a week during school hours.

Principal Directs Activities
Under the supervision of Principal Harold Williams, who has been instrumental in the organization of many of the clubs, and the members of the Junior High faculty, at 11 a. m. on four days of the week many students lay aside their school books and devote 45 minutes to work in the club which interests them most.

The students may join any one of the following groups: Stamp club,

Investigations Are Started In Crash of Airliner

Although exhaustive investigations have been started in the crash of a luxury airliner near Goodwin, Ark., which took the lives of 17, it was believed engine trouble was the direct cause. Searchers were forced to penetrate woods and swamps in order to remove the crushed bodies of 12 men, four women and a child. The tragedy occurred a few minutes after the airliner took off from Memphis, Tenn., for Little Rock, Ark. Photo above shows some of the wreckage of the big ship.

Speed Indicator Is Found,
Jammed at Reading of 180 Miles an Hour

(By Associated Press)

GOODWIN, Ark., Jan. 16.—Investigators dug a jammed speed indicator today from the muddy swamp where 17 persons died in the crash of a luxury airliner and thereby found their first clue to the cause of the nation's worst plane travel disaster.

The official inquiry, headed by Eugene L. Vidal, assistant secretary of Commerce for aeronautics, must depend on mute evidence to fix the cause of "The Southerner's" plunge Tuesday night.

None aboard the giant plane when it ripped down into the wooded Arkansas swamp was left alive.

Rangers Guard Wreckage
The pitifully torn bodies of the four women, 12 men and a child were being returned to their families today while state rangers stood guard over the twisted wreckage to prevent further looting.

The air speed indicator, jammed at 180 miles an hour—nearly three times the plane's landing speed—was enigma as well as clue.

With it, buried deep in the mud, were found the ignition switches, which were on, and the switch controlling the landing lights. It was off.

The big twin-motored Douglas had a top speed of about 200 miles, cruised at 180-190 and landed at 65-70.

Thus if the broken instrument showed the speed at the time of

Sen. Wheeler Says Power of Supreme Court Is Too Great

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler returned to the United States from the Orient today with the assertion that the power of the supreme court should be limited.

Commenting on its decision invalidating the agricultural adjustment act, the Montana Democrat declared, "I am not at all sure but what we will have to amend the Constitution shortly."

"People talk about the sanctity of the Constitution," he said. "They should realize that constitutions are made for men; men are not made for constitutions."

"When the Constitution does not meet the economic needs of the people, it is up to congress to amend it."

He expressed the belief that supreme court decisions vitally affecting the people, such as the AAA ruling, should be referred to congress for ratification.

Senator Wheeler, with Senator Robert R. Reynolds (D. N. C.), was an official observer at the inauguration in Manila of Manuel Quezon as first president of the Philippines.

Akron Parents Guilty In Neglecting Twins

AKRON, Jan. 16.—Convicted of criminally neglecting their 14-month-old twins, Charles Beal, 21, and his wife, Gladys, 20, faced a year in the workhouse today and possible manslaughter or second degree murder charges.

They were given the maximum workhouse sentence by Common Pleas Judge Oscar Hunsicker who suggested the more serious charges be brought because of the death of one of the twins, Jerry.

CLUB SELECTS NEW OFFICERS

A. E. Beardmore Chosen President of County Motor Club; Morris
Named Manager

A. E. Beardmore of Salem is the new president of the Columbiana County Motor club.

Serving as vice president during the last year, the Salem man was advanced to the presidency at the annual meeting of the board of directors at East Liverpool Wednesday night. He succeeds Albert McLain of East Liverpool.

Other officers are: First vice president, Roy Sutherland of East Palestine; second vice president, Lawrence Heddleston, East Liverpool; secretary-treasurer, R. B. Rutledge, Chester, W. Va.

Albert P. Morris of Salem, who has been manager of the club for several years, was retained for another year. His report showed gains in membership and an improved financial condition of the club.

The February meeting of the directors will be held in Columbiana.

110 Women Receive Sewing Project Aid

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Approximately 110 women were taken from relief lists in the county this week when F. W. Chambers, county WPA manager, was authorized to start six sewing projects in as many communities.

At East Palestine, where 25 women have been put to work, only comforts will be made. At Leontonia 15 women are being employed and at Wellsville 20. Fifteen women are being employed here and at Salem, and at East Liverpool 20 are given work.

Finished products from the sewing centers will be brought to the commodity warehouse here, and then distribution will be made to eligible families.

County Ministers Plan Organization

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Ministers of the county will meet at the Methodist Episcopal church here Jan. 24 to form a county ministerial association.

Rev. Ray H. Klingaman, pastor of St. Jacobs Reformed church, who was chairman of a meeting here Jan. 13 is at the head of this movement, the first of the character ever attempted in this county.

At this session, there will be further discussion concerning youth problems.

Distribute Meat

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Raymond Booth, in charge of distribution of surplus commodities for the county, today forwarded 120 cases of canned beef to various county distributing agencies, available to those who are on relief lists.

Each case contained 24 packages, the distribution amounting to 2,880 packages of canned beef.

AWARDS STAY OF 30 DAYS

Decision of Executive Saves Prisoner from Chair Friday

BULLETIN
TRENTON, N. J., Jan.

13.—Governor Hoffman today announced a reprieve for thirty days for Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

"It is my intention to grant only this one reprieve," said Gov. Hoffman.

By JAMES W. DOUTHAT,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The supreme court refused today to save Bruno Richard Hauptmann from the electric chair tomorrow night.

Apparently the only hope of the convicted kidnapper-murderer of the Lindbergh baby lies in a possible reprieve by Governor Harold G. Hoffman, of New Jersey.

Hauptmann's petition for a writ of habeas corpus and a stay of execution had been filed shortly after noon by his attorneys.

The decision to deny the petition was agreed upon while the justices ate their lunch from 2 to 2:30 p. m.

Chief Justice Hughes, in a clear, loud voice, announced the verdict as follows: "In the matter of Bruno Richard Hauptmann the application for leave to file a petition for writ of habeas corpus is denied."

By DALE HARRISON.
(Copyright, 1936, The Associated Press.)

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 16.—An appeal to the United States supreme court and a statement from a high source that there had been a "confession" in the Lindbergh murder case gave Bruno Richard Hauptmann new hope today to escape the electric chair tomorrow night.

The court action, requiring only a few seconds, was taken by two of the leading figures in the case was: "There has been a confession, and it is by someone other than Bruno Richard Hauptmann." There were no further details.

In some official quarters there was much skepticism as to the merits of such a confession.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman's office here said the governor had "no knowledge of a confession." The governor, who has not been at his office for several days, was said to be in New York in conferences the nature of which were kept secret but which were presumed to be in connection with the Hauptmann case, in which the governor has shown marked interest.

No Reprieve Decision
Governor Hoffman's press aide, William Conklin, after saying the governor had no knowledge of a confession, added that the governor had as yet made no decision as to a reprieve.

Before the governor also was a new affidavit by Samuel Small, a professional penman of New York, to the effect that Hauptmann "could not possibly have written" the ransom notes which were a great factor in the conviction of the Bronx carpenter at his trial at Flemington. Small drew his conclusion from general methods of writing.

Another governor, Horner of Illinois, came into the case today. Chicago advices said that Gov. Horner was looking into the story of a Chicago Bridewell prisoner that he had been offered $22,000 worth of Lindbergh ransom money at 40 cents on the dollar and that he had taken some and distributed it "here and there."

THE SWEET AND THE BITTER

Before congratulations to Howard Hughes for his 9 hour and 27 minute transcontinental flight last Monday night were cold, the country's lively interest in aviation had turned to the worst disaster which has marred the record of commercial flying. Seventeen persons, 14 of them passengers, were killed outright Tuesday night in the crash of an American Airlines plane near Goodwin, Ark.

It is significant that Americans can hear such horrible news without permanent damage to their faith in commercial aviation. Obviously, it will have a bad effect, as every crash must have, but the effect will not be permanent. Though one plane crashes, hundreds of others fly safely, keeping up to their schedules and vindicating the belief that eventually airplanes will carry passengers as safely as trains now carry them.

Throughout its brief history aviation has been a mixture of the sweet and the bitter—great triumphs and crushing disappointments. Sometimes the disappointments have threatened to become dominant, yet in a third of a century the airplane has become the symbol of modernity in transportation. The United States, moreover, leads the world in adaptation of the airplane to commercial purposes.

Men learn through adversity, or at least it is comforting to believe they do when so great a disappointment as the plane crash in Arkansas pleads for some kind of a rational explanation. Perhaps the 17 lives lost last Tuesday night will insure greater safety for countless other lives which will be entrusted to airplanes in the future.

ITCHY

There's no mistaking the signs of itches among certain uprooters in and out of Washington. What little restraint they have in their dispositions is being stretched to the snapping point.

Their big ambition at the moment is to pull out the chairs from under all nine supreme court justices at once. They can't wait to howl their glee at the sight of the "nine old men" rolling on the floor.

Just one thing holds them back. That is the indifference of the public to their little plan for showing the supreme court the depth of their contempt for a government of law.

They can't understand why their outbursts of indignation aren't applauded, but they are afraid to go ahead unless supported by a noisy following. They hope that in the near future the people will come around to seeing things their way.

But they either are ignorant or are ignoring certain facts which aren't favorable to their uprooting urge. One fact is that the public is distrustful of congress—more distrustful than it ever has been of the supreme court. It will be difficult, if not impossible, to convince the electorate that congress should be made wholly independent of the system of checks and balances which is the characteristic of the United States government. The painful truth is that congress has not earned the respect it would need to possess to make a valid claim for wider authority.

Another fact, which would cool certain fevered brows if it ever penetrated them, is the certainty that the same judicial system which now irks the uprooters will be their protector when the federal government eventually falls into the hands of the opposition. They, too, may have need in the future to check the legislation enacted by a rubber stamp congress against fundamental law, as set down in the Constitution.

There is nothing to prevent the reformers from trying to revise the fundamental law of the nation, if they are interested in following the prescribed procedure for making alterations in the government. Apparently, they are not interested; they want to change the form of government without taking the trouble of consulting the electorate. Their itchiness is understandable. The trouble is that it is too understandable. Americans instinctively distrust men who try too hard to get everything their own way. That explains the indifference—in some cases the opposition—which the uprooters are unable to understand.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—The pooch parade that reveals Manhattan's flair for dogs begins at 7 p. m. along Fifth, Madison and Park avenues. A daily kennel show in itself, with the pedigreed kiyoodies brushed and blanketed and conscious of their breathing.

Dogs can be made to reflect the superiority their owners feel. The glossy Poni may not even glance at some shaggy biological lapse with perhaps a lop ear or elongated tail. There are monogrammed coats, fur lined, collars studded with jewels, and leashes of actual silver.

The promenade may include two illustrious Katharines—Cornell and Brush, Mollie Mallory, Howard Chandler Christy and many others of headline quality. The canine range extends from the low-slung dachshund to the hip-high mastiff. And always a small flock of Bedlington lambs towed by innocent Marys.

Then, too, there are those who take advantage of the period to air other sorts of pets. The radio singer with the domesticated fox. She calls it "Horse" ace" and it barks back at dogs. The twin snow-white Siamese cats in double harness, and last but not least the lumbering star, "Jumbo," of the Hip.

It's what the mountaineers call a "fur piece" for Harry Richman back to the days when with his tiny white portable piano he was just another singing act in the cellar cabarets. Then, as now, much of his charm was his graciousness responding to encores. He seems tireless. And success has not calloused him to such response. Today there's nothing he likes better after his day's chore than to run through his songs for intimates. This willingness is almost an invariable trait of those who have reached the top rung. A reason they reach it, no doubt.

Nora Bayes was never so happy as when expressing herself in song, on stage and off. One evening at the old Sixty Club when the crowd dwindled to a handful that was already retrieving wraps, some one suggested Miss Bayes sing just one song. This was about 3 a. m. and at 7 a. m. she was still singing, as fresh as the proverbial daisy. Not a soul had thought of leaving.

Perhaps the most generous of all with his talents without pay is Charlie Chaplin. He is his best when a party has spent itself and everybody is killing off yawns. He then picks it up, puts it on its feet and makes it something memorable for the ditty box. So much so, his screen efforts as excellent as they are, seem second rate. In these impromptu jets his versatility fairly staggers. Now a Japanese Juggler, a Spanish dancer, a Chinese diplomat, a Russian immigrant, a French coquette, a Cockney flower seller and so on. Jabbering away in each tongue as though an expert linguist although scarcely knowing a word of any.

Ralph Barton once staged a party for Chaplin in his rue Nicolet house in Paris. Yvonne Printemps was a guest. She spoke no English nor Chaplin French. Most of the guests were Americans so as a gag the French actress and Chaplin engaged in mild dispute at the table that soared into a pyrotechnic outburst of shrieking imprecations, shoulder shrugs and a deluge of mutual tears. All done in French—that is her pure Gallic and Chaplin's linguistic fakery. Not a soul, save Barton, knew until next day it was delicious foolery.

For Ripley: Gene Buck knows an actor of 52 who does not say he is 39.

With the decision of Ike Meltzer, Brooklyn bridge newsboy, to abandon the Paris boulevards, the evacuation by American exiles seems complete. A war left-over, Ike has been peddling American newspapers in the bars and in his special patrol along both sides the Cafe de la Paix these years. He married a French girl, stubbornly refused, like Arthur Moss, to learn the language, but was resigned to permanent residence. But now he's coming home. No business.

Language of the flowers note: They came out of Sherry's bar. A raccoon-coated collegiate and a dainty daughter of Nippon. Only her complexion and upward slant of her eyes betrayed her Oriental strain. "Now, little Cherry Blossom shall we taxi or walk?" he beamed. She smiled archly and replied: "If you don't mind, big Sun Flower, we'll walk and not muss up our petals."

ANOTHER airplane record. Howard Hughes, flying 18,000 feet up much of the way, came from Los Angeles to Newark, in 9 hours 27 minutes 10 seconds.

High up where air resistance is less, using a super-charging engine and helping his own lungs with oxygen from a tank, Mr. Hughes beat the existing record held by Col. Roscoe Turner of 10 hours 2 minutes 51 seconds.

Mr. Hughes proves that being rich does not always spoil young Americans. He flew from ocean to ocean without a stop, 2,450 miles, at an average speed of 250 miles.

GERMANY'S government worries about Russia, and what may happen in a year or two when Russia's present industrial plans are completed.

At the start of its dictator career Chancellor Hitler denounced Russia and all her works. Hitler and Stalin do not love each other. Russia has been building what may be Europe's biggest air fleet, plus a powerful submarine fleet and a gigantic army.

War between Russia and Germany might smooth out other European difficulties, removing French anxiety about Hitler's plans. Napoleon, and the Allies after him, discovered that conquering Russia is a problem not easily solved. If Hitler once became involved in that direction, he might find out an outlet for all his unused energy.

STALIN might find himself busy on two fronts in case Japan, seeing Hitler start, should try to eliminate the objectionable Vladivostok air and submarine bases now aimed at Japan's coast, shipping and factories.

UNDER the circumstances it is pleasing to read that Hiram Johnson, of California, and some others have decided to oppose Secretary Hull's plan for a government of the United States, shared by Great Britain and other countries.

Senator Johnson and some of his associates feel that this country showed weak knees and a yellow streak when it allowed England to regulate our commerce in the big war. Hiram Johnson favors absolute and complete freedom of the seas for this country and complete neutrality. Welcome news.

BIG BROADCASTING companies refuse to allow the Republican party to broadcast "laughable skits" on the "New Deal."

Now, or after some worthwhile upheaval, "freedom of the air" will have to be dealt with as was "freedom of the press" when the Constitution was written.

For radio companies to say to the party in power, "Because we fear you we shall take you to every home in the country and let you say what you please, and shall refuse to give the same publicity to your opponents," might not suit the American idea.

THERE is rioting in Porto Rico, numbers killed and wounded in various places. It is said a Porto Rico "young men's party" has decided to separate Porto Rico from the United States, inspired perhaps by the departure of the Philippines.

It is supposed that this government will tell the "young Porto Rico gentlemen" that they will not be allowed to separate and might as well forget about it.

This country, in the way of protection, resources, education and civilization, is necessary to Porto Rico, and strategically Porto Rico is useful to the United States.

What would England say if Jamaica should announce: "We wish to leave the British Empire?"

THE PHILIPPINES, now free to rule themselves until Japan, or somebody decides to take them over, announce that their police force is being formed into an army. It will take a great deal of patriotism and military genius to operate the Japanese military machine, airplanes included, with an army like that.

PARIS REPORTS negotiations for an English loan to France of four billion francs—$264,800,000. The British may want to strengthen Premier Laval, with whom they deal more comfortably than with the average Frenchman, while the spontaneous word for England is still "perfidious."

France presumably would pay England: what European nations do when they borrow from Uncle Sam does not apply when they borrow from each other.

Washingtonville Class Entertained

WASHINGTONVILLE, Jan. 16.—The Good Samaritan class of the Methodist Sunday school taught by Mrs. Glen Jackson, was entertained recently in the home of Miss Mary Cox.

Following the business session contests were enjoyed with honors won by Donis June Fieldhouse and Esther Call. The hostess served lunch.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Fieldhouse.

Class Entertained

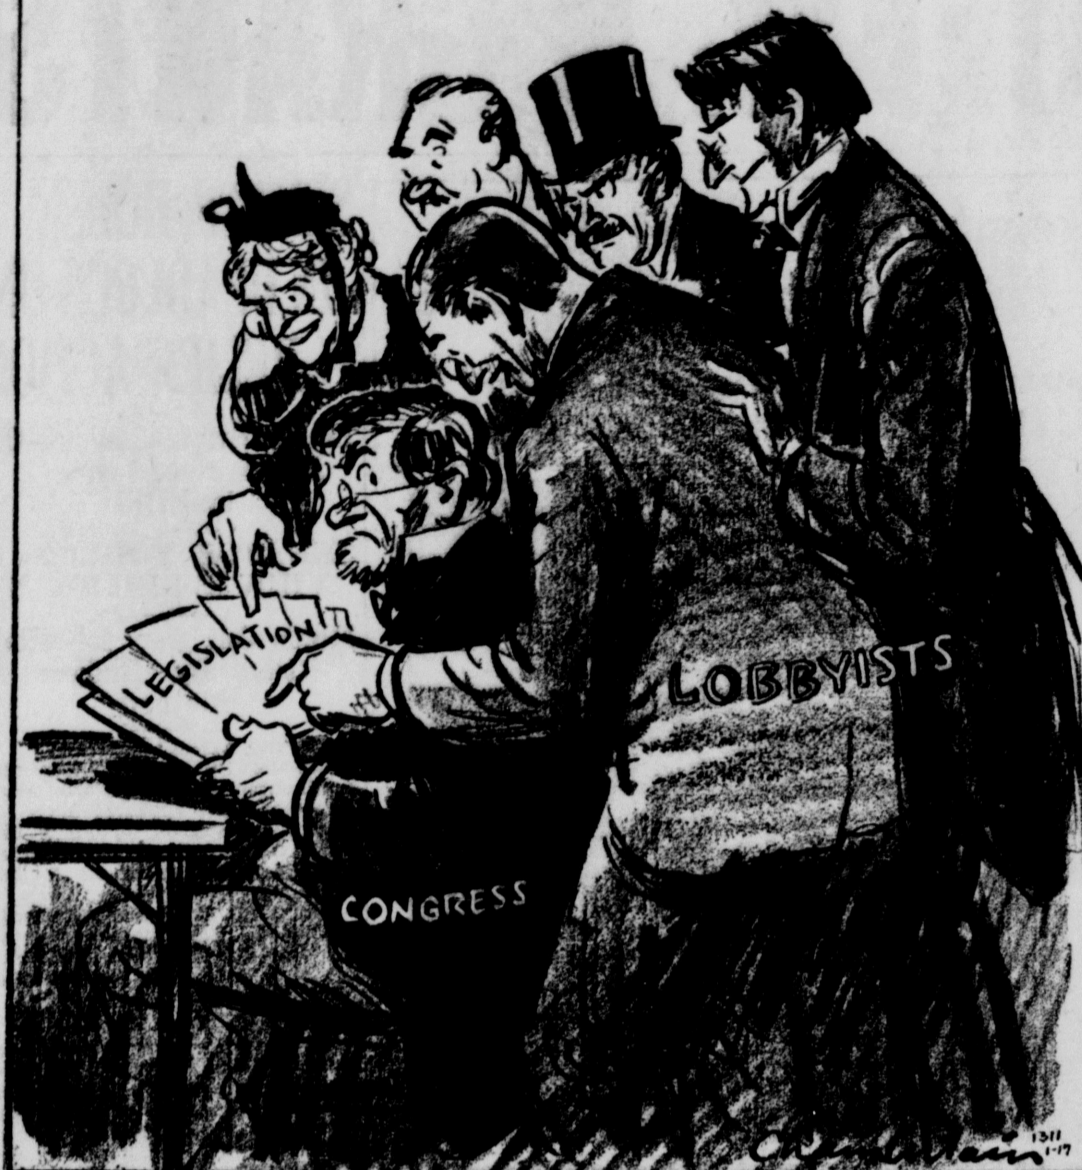

The Friendship class of the Methodist Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Tingle, was entertained on Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Salina Mushrush.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Charles Vignon. A social hour followed the business session.

The next meeting will be held in the home of the president, Mrs. Vignon when their anniversary will be celebrated and a covered lunch enjoyed.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

WHAT PLANS are made for the arrival of the expected baby? Whether or not it is the first in the family makes no difference. Everybody is excited anyhow.

Many problems are associated with babyhood. They relate to the clothing, the prevention of illness, and the training of the child in good habits.

The child's mental, as well as its physical health, depends largely on the habits acquired during the first of life. It is during this period that the baby grows fastest. It learns to laugh, play, stand and make various sounds. Its feeding, sleeping and elimination habits are formed. When right habits are acquired early they will be useful to the child the rest of his life.

At birth, the average baby weighs approximately seven pounds and measures about twenty inches. Few changes take place in the life of the infant during the first few weeks. But by the end of the first month it raises the head and brings the little fingers to its mouth.

The infant begins to recognize the mother and others in the home. In the third month it makes known its likes and dislikes. By the fourth or fifth month it develops purposeful movements, and is able to hold a toy or other object.

Train Baby Slowly
By the sixth month the infant holds its head erect and is able to sit up with little support. At the eighth month it creeps, changes position without difficulty and is capable of sitting up alone. Occasionally a baby is able to stand up at this age, but this is unusual.

As a rule the normal infant is able to raise itself to a standing position by the tenth month. Shortly thereafter it begins to walk. Of course, it takes time before it gains enough confidence to walk without assistance.

Chichesters Pills
"THE DIAMOND BRAND"

Chichesters Pills

Before it is a year old the baby should be trained to have regular bowel movements. My time a few teeth will have been cut. Ordinarily weaning has already begun.

Do not become alarmed because your baby is unable to do the "usual" things at a given age. But if the child is not making normal progress in growth and development, it is advisable to talk with your physician.

Failure to walk by the seventeenth to twentieth month should arouse suspicion of some physical disturbance. Late standing and walking may be due to rickets. It is always best for the infant and growing child to report regularly to the physician.

Answers to Health Queries
Mrs. L. H. Q.—I have been taking L. H. Q. and tablets for the relief of gas pains. These tablets afford great comfort. Are they apt to prove harmful in any way? 2: Is it safe to use a mild solution of salt water in the nose?

A.—No. However, it would be well to find the cause of the trouble. Watch your diet and elimination. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. 2: Have your doctor advise you regarding treatment of this kind. It is never wise to attempt self-medication.

STRENGTHEN THE BLADDER

Make This 25c Test
Drink lots of boiled or distilled water, if irritation causes getting up nights, frequent desire, scanty flow, burning or lachrymation. You know what hardware does to a teakettle. Drive out excess acids and deposits with buchu leaves, juniper oil etc. made into green tablets called BUKETS, the bladder lax. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. In four days if not pleased any druggist will refund your 25c. J. H. Lease Drug Co.—Adv.

QUICK-A PACKAGE OF RINSO! I'M CHANGING TO EASY WASH DAYS

YES-AND TO WHITER, BRIGHTER WASHES

SHE'S no fool! All her neighbors were gashed with whiter washes than she, and she found out why. Rinsol! So she dashed off to the grocer's and got some for herself. Now she gets clothes so much whiter—without scrubbing or boiling. Rinsol gently soaks out dirt—saves the clothes—they last 2 or 3 times longer. It's safe for colors, easy on the hands. Wonderful for dishwashing. And simply grand in WASHING MACHINES. Better rush to your grocer and get some Rinsol! It's the biggest-selling package soap in America.

Miss Gahris Bride of Harrison Keller

Miss Gretchen Sebring Gahris, daughter of the late W. I. and Helen Sebring Gahris, became the bride of Harrison Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Keller of Alliance, at the home of the bride's grandfather, F. A. Sebring, in Sebring at noon Wednesday.

Dr. John V. Stephens, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Alliance, officiated at the ceremony, attended by members of the immediate families. Miss Gahris wore an afternoon gown of turquoise blue and had a corsage of orchids.

A wedding luncheon was served to 14 guests after the ceremony. Following the ceremony the couple left for an extended wedding trip to Florida and New Orleans. Upon their return they will be at home to friends at 1547 Miller ave., Alliance.

The bride attended Dana Hall and Hathaway Brown, school at Cleveland and is a graduate of Smith college. Her husband is a graduate of Mount Union college, a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and did graduate work abroad. He is general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co., of Alliance.

Beverly Bucey, G. whose mother, Mrs. Vera Jewell Bucey, of East Sixth st., died Monday, will make her future home with her uncle, Earl Bucey, in Steubenville, relatives said today.

Today's Pattern

Elected!—to membership in a basic budget-wardrobe, this frock promises to give its wearer the ultimate in style and service, at a minimum cost. It's easily made, besides, and grand to wear under a topcoat the remainder of the winter, or without a coat, when spring arrives. There's an individual line to the yoke, an easy cut to raglan sleeves, while inverted pleats furnish the new hemline jewel. Ever so smart in a rich, jewel-tone synthetic, in jersey, or in one of the new dressy woolsens, you'll find it makes a trim appearance at club-meetings, church gatherings, school or office. Try different accessories with it, for a varied effect.

We Have Captured THE ENTIRE COMMUNITY!

WE APOLOGIZE TO THE PUBLIC!

The response to our advertisement the first day—was beyond our fondest expectations, and while we tried to fortify ourselves with sufficient help to handle the crowds we were literally swept off our feet. To those who were forced to wait outside in the cold for admittance to our store, and those who did not get waited on promptly, we wish to apologize, and extend you an invitation to visit this sale this week. You will find hundreds of new values awaiting you at substantial savings. Thousands of dollars worth HIGH GRADE kitchen furnishings, china ware, glassware from our stockrooms is now making its way to the tables and bins to be closed out at staggering low prices. Signed: STAMP HOME STORE, INC.

We Broke All Selling Records Wednesday . . . We Tore the Sides Out of Salem's Trading Traditions.

YES! We Packed the Stamp Home Stores, Inc., to the Four Walls, From 9 A. M. Until 5:30 P. M. With These Three Vital Factors:—

- TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING
- MERITORIOUS MERCHANDISE
- AWE INSPIRING PRICES

We turned old Salem upside down with values that made the old-time selling prices look like shadows in comparison. That's why we sold thousands of dollars' worth of stock while hundreds was the rule—that's why we were forced to work until the wee small hours Thursday morning to get out merchandise for more selling. We have added adequate help that all may be waited on promptly. Glance over these prices and you will help crowd our aisles.

Strangest Killers Will Die In Chair Tonight for Crimes

(By Associated Press)
OSSENING, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Death in the electric chair tonight is scheduled for two of the strangest killers ever confined in Sing Sing prison.

One of the doomed men is Albert Fish, 66-year-old slayer of 10-year-old Grace Budd. The other is John Smith, a one-legged man, convicted of killing James Wilson in a fight in the Bronx.

Fish, who is said to look forward to his electrocution as the "supreme thrill" of his life, took the girl away from her New York home in 1928 and killed her soon afterward.

In his confession, he blamed a "blood lust" which he said was aroused by reading tales of Oriental cannibalism.

After imprisonment, Fish tortured himself by sticking needles into his abdomen.

On trial, he was accused of criminally attacking numerous children. His attorneys pleaded he was insane.

Twenty-seven needles are still imbedded in his flesh.

To electrocute Smith, whose right leg is amputated at the knee, prison officials will have to re-arrange the death chair. An electrode, generally clamped to the right leg of the victim, will be moved to the left side of the chair before Smith enters it.

Robert Elliott, who will be the executioner of Bruno Richard Hauptmann at the New Jersey prison, if Hauptmann pays the supreme penalty for the kidnap-murder of the Lindbergh baby, will officiate at the deaths of Fish and Smith.

Western Reception

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 16.

Frank Marker, Detroit, Mich., exhibited a bullet hole in the rear fender of his motor car today as evidence of a "wild west" reception given him when he tried to awaken a filling station operator yesterday at Cuervo, N. M., a mountain village 140 miles east of here.

Livestock Went for Liquor, Wife Says

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16.—In a petition for divorce, Mrs. Susan Hibler charges her husband, Andrew, bartered the family's livestock for liquor.

Among the items she asked the court to save by an injunction, restraining her husband for surrendering or encumbering them, were:

"Five cows, a team of mules, a team of oxen, 20 ducks, 103 chickens, two bulls, 11 hogs, and a farm of 34 acres near Huntsburg."

State Cuts Highway Department's Staff

COLUMBUS, Jan. 16.—A number of state highway department employees found themselves discharged today as a result of a projected economy plan to eliminate 1,600 names from the state's payroll.

John J. Jaster, Jr., declined to estimate the number dismissed, but said a total of 500 men had been released during 1935 through eliminating of combining jobs and that more would be dismissed during the next two months.

Personnel reduction in other departments has not yet started.

Columbiana Rotary Club Has Meeting

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 16.—A round-table discussion was held Monday evening at the meeting of the Columbiana Rotary club at the Valley Golf club. President Evan Roller presided.

Henry Staley read a letter from a former local Rotarian, Rev. C. E. Krumm, now of Oak Harbor. Rotarians T. R. Phillips, John Lyden, O. D. Decker and Fred Smith, Youngstown, were visitors.

It was announced that a Ladies' Night party would be held Feb. 10.

"Snow White", using her own home made puppets and stage and also supplying the dialog. There has been no election of officers in this club. Mrs. Helen Hole is advisor.

Mrs. Lulu McCarthy, advisor, was assisting members of the Sewing club in making aprons at their meeting Monday. This club has its own sewing machine and its members have made useful household articles during their meetings.

"Wrapped Up" in Their Work
The advisor of the Handcraft club, Miss Elizabeth Ward, was absent from its meeting this week but the members, all girls, were hard at work and well "wrapped up" in their knitting. Eleanor Williams is president of the organization and Shirley Crawford is secretary. Such novelties as "Mickey Mouse" dolls have been made by members of this club.

The Audubon club members, who were studying the Starling at their last meeting, are fortunate in having as their advisor William Baker, an expert on bird life in Ohio. Baker takes the members of his club on trips once each month and has a library of bird books in his room available to all students. Officers of this club are: President, Robert Shaw; vice president, George Bartholomew; secretary-treasurer, Virginia Wilcox; museum curator, Carl Smith; librarian, James Shaffer; editor of Audubon club journal, Eric Reinthal.

Mastering songs and singing them to perfection is the work of the Girl's Glee club. The girls gave a fine example of group singing at their meeting Monday morning. Mrs. Doris Tellow is advisor and singing instructor for the club which has not elected officers.

Await Valentine Day
Mrs. Ethel Hedrick, art teacher of Salem public schools, is advisor to the Art club which has already begun work for Valentine day. Parents, who have children that are members of this club, are no doubt familiar with the pictures that have been made by use of linoleum blocks which the club members make themselves.

In addition to the clubs, there is the Junior High orchestra under the direction of Walter Regal. This musical organization practices daily in its own room in the basement of the Fourth st. building.

$36,000,000 In Gas Tax Gained by State

COLUMBUS, Jan. 16.—The State of Ohio collected more than $36,000,000 in taxes from the sale of almost one billion gallons of gasoline to Ohio motorists during the first 11 months of 1935.

The state tax commission reported a consumption of 938,315,000 gallons of gasoline, yielding $36,071,920.23 from the combined gasoline and liquid fuel taxes. Revenues reached a peak in July when 96,731,857 gallons of gasoline were used.

Outcome Of Salem-Alliance Game Friday Considered Toss-Up

SAXON TEAMS TO ENTERTAIN ELLWOOD CITY QUINTETS SATURDAY

INVADING TEAMS ARE MEMBERS OF EASTERN LEAGUE

Salem Girls Are Unbeaten; Boys Have Lost One Game

Making their first home appearance since Dec. 28, the Salem Saxon boys and girls cage teams will entertain Ellwood City, Pa. Saxon quintets at the Memorial building Saturday night.

The games, as originally scheduled, were to be played in Ellwood City, but Pete Sanders, Salem coach, received word Wednesday that the Pennsylvania Saxon quintets would be unable to play on their home court and asked to have the contests transferred to the Memorial building.

Fifth League Game
Saturday's contest will be the Salem boys fifth Saxon league engagement while it will be the fourth for the undefeated Salem team. Neither of the Salem teams played last week although Youngstown Saxons had been scheduled for games. Controversy over playing arrangements caused postponement of the contests.

The invading Ellwood City quintets are members of the eastern division of the Saxon league. The Salem aggregations, as members of the western division, only play teams of the eastern division once while they play cage teams of their own division twice.

Expect To Win
The Salem lasses have maintained an undefeated record by defeating Canton, Cleveland West and Cleveland East. They are not expected to have much difficulty in making the Ellwood City girls their fourth straight victim.

The Ellwood City boys team is made up of J. Thelmann and M. Thelmann, A. Segedi and M. Segedi, J. Zekel and W. Schuller. Players on the girls team are R. Segedi and M. Segedi, M. Schuller, E. Ungar and E. Herbert.

Sportsmen Meet In Columbus for Walton Banquets

COLUMBUS, Jan. 16.—Sportsmen, Waltonians and conservationists from all parts of Ohio will attend the annual convention of the Ohio division of the Izaak Walton League of America to be held at the Neil house in Columbus today and tomorrow.

A buffet lunch, followed by a smoker and open meeting, will be held at 6:30 today. The convention will open with a business session at 9 a. m. tomorrow. There will be an address by G. B. Brown, secretary of the Muskingum conservancy district, Zanesville, and a talk by Larry Woodell, conservancy commissioner, in the afternoon. The annual Izaak Walton league banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m. Reservations at $1.50 per plate can be made through the local Izaak Walton secretary or at the Neil house in Columbus.

BOTH RETZLAFF AND LOUIS ARE CERTAIN OF WIN

Fighters Make Usual Pre-Bout Predictions of What They'll Do

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Joe Louis sat around today waiting for the call to action, while his foe of tomorrow night in the Chicago stadium, Charley Retzlaff, sat and listened to a familiar refrain.

It goes something like this: "The first guy who goes right out there and slugs with Louis will beat him."

Heard Same Refrain
Whether there is anything to the advice remains to be determined. The refrain was sung to Primo Carnera, King Levinsky, Max Baer and Paulino Uzcudun. They either forgot all about it upon taking a look at the Brown Bomber's dead pan or didn't take much stock for none rushed out to slug. What happened to the quartet, and a number of others is well known.

Retzlaff's advisers sought to convince the North Dakota farmer that his only chance with Louis lay in making a fight of it. He, like Louis, was finished today with the physical part of training for the 15 round engagement, but the campaign to get Retzlaff steamed up and keep him that way was to last until fight time.

Both fighters had made the customary pre-battle statements. "I am ready for Retzlaff," Louis said. "I will be in there to give my best. The quicker I score a knockout the better I'll like it. What's the use of foolin' I want to get it over as fast as I can."

A Right to the Jaw
"They can pick Louis to win," the North Dakotan said, "but I'll show them that he can be hit and hurt. Down in my heart I know I have what can beat him—a right to the jaw."

The Negro went through seven rounds of boxing yesterday, taking it easy for the most part. While his work was not impressive, he appeared to be holding back offensively and concentrating on avoiding punches. His only flash of regulation Louis form came in his two rounds with Ed Willis, who was dropped twice by savage rights.

Retzlaff boxed only four rounds, going at a lively clip with Art Oliver and Johnny Brown. His right hand, as usual, was his favorite weapon.

The weighing-in ceremony will be held tomorrow at noon, instead of the usual 2 p. m., and in a gymnasium instead of the Athletic commission offices. The shift was approved because commission quarters were too small to accommodate the expected crowd of spectators.

BROOKLYN SIGNS FRED LINDSTROM

Acquisition of Former Cub Player Boosts Hopes of Dodgers

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The news that Freddy Lindstrom, recently cut adrift by the Chicago Cubs, will play with the Dodgers next season cast a new light today upon Brooklyn's 1936 prospects.

Lindstrom announced at Miami last night that he had accepted the Brooklyn offer of "within a few dollars" of his Cubs salary, and would report at the training camp March 1.

The acquisition of Lindstrom may mean that Jersey Joe Stripp, the useful veteran who has been holding down third base for the Dodgers, is on his way out.

Big Help
In the infield or outfield, however, Freddy is expected to be a big help to the club. Despite his lower batting average last season, he is regarded as a more dependable hitter than Stripp and due for a comeback this year.

Although just about as useful as an outfielder, Lindy seemed slated for third. The Dodgers have plenty of good-looking outfield material to join last year's veterans, including Oscar Eckhardt, leading Coast league batter; Buster Mills, Johnny Cooney and Gene Moore.

Except for Sam Leslie, who may yet be sold or traded, the infield is youthful with Jimmy Bucher or Vince Sherlock on second and Linus Frey at short.

Columbians Down Pottery In Class A League Game

Victory Leaves the Columbians As the Only Undeleted Team in the Senior Loop

The Columbia quintet took a big step toward the Class A league basketball championship last night when it defeated the Pottery cagers, 32 to 29, in a thrilling contest at the Memorial building.

Both teams were unbeaten in league competition until last night. The victory leaves the Columbians as the only undefeated team of the Class A circuit. They have four consecutive triumphs to their credit. The Pottery has won three and lost one.

For three quarters of the game it appeared as though the Pottery five would gain the victory. The Chinamen led 7 to 5 at the end of the first period and at the intermission were out in front, 15 to 9.

After rallying in the third period to cut the Pottery's edge to two points, the Columbians forged into the lead during the final frame and, with Bill DeRienzo scoring the needed points, they sewed up the victory.

Nedelka and McQuilken turned in fine performances for the Pottery while DeRienzo and Charles McCloskey were best among the Columbians.

Although the Columbian-Pottery clash received the most attention of the Class A loop program last night, the Saxons and Trades Class participated in a close contest in which the former quintet came out on top, 35 to 34.

The Saxons held a five-point lead at the end of the third quarter and were barely able to stave off the last period rally of the Trades Class. Mike Linder tallied 12 points to lead the Saxon scoring while Schaffer connected on seven field goals and one free throw to score 15 points for the Trades Class.

MOUNT CAGERS DOWN ASHLAND

Purple Comes from Behind in Last Period to Win 48 to 43

Ohio Wesleyan's sharpshooters overcame a fighting Wittenberg cage team at Delaware last night, 30 to 25.

The Lutherans took the lead twice in the game and trailed close behind through the rest of the encounter until the last few minutes. At half-time the score was knotted at 15-all.

Mount Union came from behind in the last period and vanquished Ashland, 48 to 33, at Alliance. Schlitz and Weaver of Mount Union piled up 14 and 13 points respectively. At the half Ashland was in the lead, 19 to 18.

Western Reserve's hoopsters, led by Bill Fleischman, who made 18 points, and Frank Kelker, with 17, trounced Bluffton, 65 to 48, at Cleveland. Ronald (Paavo) Nurmi sank 19 points for the invaders, most of them made in a sensational spurt in the first half, which cut Reserve's lead to 18 to 15.

Otterbein hung a 42 to 34 defeat onto Capital in a scrappy game at Westerville. Otterbein was ahead, 22 to 15, at the intermission.

Kent State whipped Fenn college of Cleveland, 48 to 29, after both teams had started slowly. Fenn couldn't make a point for 14 minutes after the opening whistle. At the half Kent was ahead, 33 to 10.

Quakers And Aviators Will Both Attempt To Break Losing Streaks

Salem Has Been Defeated by Its Last Three Opponents, While Alliance Has Lost In Its Last Four Contests

Although the outcome of the Northeastern Ohio Big Six league game between the Salem High school Quakers and the Alliance High Aviators at the High school gymnasium tomorrow night is considered a toss-up, one thing is certain about the contest... the winner will halt a losing streak.

The Aviators have been the victims of their last four opponents while the Quakers have suffered defeat in their last three contests. One of the teams is sure to pull out of its slump, and your guess is as good as your next door neighbor's.

Alliance inaugurated its 1935-36 season by being upset by Minerva, 15 to 12, in an overtime contest. Since that time the Aviators have been running in hard luck. In their eight games played to date they have only registered victories twice. Their first win was over Louisville and their second over Cuyahoga Falls.

Defeats
The Aviators have been defeated by Minerva, Akron Buchtel, Massillon, Niles, Akron North and Canton McKinley.

Besides seeking to put an end to its string of four defeats, Alliance will be seeking its first win on the Quakers' floor since the 1931-32 campaign.

The Aviators are by no means a push-over hardwood aggregation. They have height to combine with several talented cage stars and have been stiff opposition for all of their opponents so far this season. Their only difficulty seems to be the lack of a scoring punch.

In Douglas Starks, top-ranking scorer of the Big Six, the Aviators have one of the finest basketball players in the district. Starks, who holds down a forward berth, is the key man and sparkplug of Alliance's offensive attacks.

Cunning Performs Well
Along with Starks, the Aviators' regular lineup usually consists of John Cunnin, forward; Smith, center, and Lionel Grimes and Walter Reed, guards. Against Canton McKinley last week, Starks was held down by two men. However, Cunnin took over the scoring burden and performed exceptionally well at the task.

Alliance, like the Quakers, has been weak at the foul line in its past eight games. Perhaps if one of the teams is "on," so to speak, in this department of the game tomorrow night, it may be the deciding factor in the outcome of the contest.

The Quakers have been hard at work in practice sessions this week. Coach Herb Brown has been sending his proteges through extra long workouts in an effort to iron out the wrinkles he found in their performance last week against East Liverpool and Barberton.

Difficulty
One difficulty that stood out when the Quakers were defeated by Barberton was that they seemed to have no one who could hit the basket from the side of the court inside the foul line territory. Barberton's zone defense constantly left Kenneth Shears open in this spot, but Shears was unable to connect for scores.

The Salem and Alliance reserve teams will also play tomorrow night. The reserve contest is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 while the varsity game to follow at 8:30.

Sends Invitations
Invitations to the Salem High school night relays which will be held at Reilly stadium this spring have been sent out by Fred Cope, High school faculty manager.

The invitations were sent to high schools which have participated in the meet in past years.

President to Dedicate New Memorial to T. R.

One Roosevelt will pay tribute to another when President Franklin D. Roosevelt makes the dedication address, Jan. 19, at the opening of the New York memorial to the late President Theodore Roosevelt, his distant cousin. The memorial is educational in character.

And self-assurance that couldn't be shaken no matter how hard they now tried. The little pinpricks that used to reduce her to a pulpy state of raw nerves didn't even annoy her. She had a way of half-smiling when one of them paid her one of those half-insulting compliments and looking at them contemptuously that even Irene found disconcerting.

Helen's first definite move for freedom was to eliminate the Wednesday night dinner and evening at Anastasia's. Since her return from Europe she hadn't been there and in November when Walter Junior was on a four-hour schedule, Walter supposed they would go. Anastasia presided at these dinners from her invalid's chair with her old verve, and while her mouth watered for the rare roast or the stew the others were eating, she gobbled the invalid's fare set before her by the nurse and amiably cursed it.

"You can go if you like, dear, but I've had nearly six months of mama and that will last me for some time," Helen declared easily when Walter suggested they ought to go to one of the Wednesday nights.

"But you haven't even seen the others yet," he reproached her. "I can survive it, darling, if they can, and besides," Helen smiled winningly, "what an opportunity I give them to talk about me!"

"Helen, you know that isn't fair," "I'm sorry, darling. But you go, Walter."

"You really won't come?"

"No, darling," she said amiably. "I really won't."

In the end Walter went alone. At first he made apologies for Helen but later, running short of these, he went and said nothing. This new Helen could not be bullied; would not be cajoled. Somehow in the chase with his sisters she had outrun them all and now she didn't even bother to turn around to see where she had left them behind.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

WIFE IN CUSTODY by BEATRICE LUBITZ

CHAPTER XXXVIII

"Think of your child, if not for yourself."

"She'll be perfectly safe Agnes dear. Really, she will. I know some people have a dread of the sea, but one never hears of a big boat sinking except the Lusitania, and that was blown up. I guess the only boat that ever sank itself was the Titanic, and I'm sure today that couldn't happen."

"I'm not thinking of that. I'm thinking of sin," Agnes declared, accusingly. "Are you not afraid God will punish you and your innocent child for your sins?"

Helen tried to keep the amusement out of her voice. Agnes was certainly queer. "I'm not so sinful," she protested gently.

Agnes' face broke. Suddenly she began to sway. If Helen hadn't caught her she'd have toppled over.

Helen started to loosen her clothing. "Marie, water, quick! Mrs. Masker has fainted. Lord, this corset's so tight, no wonder she's fainted!"

"I didn't faint. Open—my corset," Agnes moaned.

"Oh, Agnes, why did you tighten yourself in like this? You'll kill yourself."

"The girls—you—so young—so slim," Agnes gasped.

"Oh, Agnes, you look so charming. You look better than any of these human herrings."

"Do you really think—I look young?" she gasped.

"Of course! You are in your zenith of loveliness now. When a woman has a beautiful maturity of mind as you have, combined with a rounded, womanly figure, she's superb. Here, take a drink of this brandy. There. That feels better, doesn't it?"

"Yes, I'm all right. I'll go now. Thanks. Phone for mama's car. It's at the garage."

"Please stay, Agnes, and have dinner with me."

Agnes shuddered. "No I couldn't stay."

"Very well, dear, as you say."

After Agnes was gone Helen was perplexed for a moment. "What ails her, I wonder?" Then she laughed uneasily. "Poor girl, just neurotic. I'd better keep as far from her as possible!"

Irene said: "I shall never forgive you Helen, if you take a chance and take that child to Europe. The place is full of typhoid. Dr. Asche says you can't get fresh milk on shipboard no matter what you pay. Suppose Grace gets dysentery."

"I don't see why she should."

Irene. Besides, I'll do just as I did when we went South. I'm taking a fast boat and I'll get sealed milk."

"It's taking a terrible chance. If my brother had any sense he'd forbid you to go."

Helen raised her eyebrows. With an effort, she restrained herself.

"Don't expect me to help you in your wild scheme."

"When I call on you for help," Helen remarked pleasantly, "you can use your discretion."

"I wish there were someone who could forbid it," Irene snapped.

Helen smiled. "Luckily for my plans, there isn't."

After Irene had gone, Helen raged about the apartment. "The nerve," she gasped. "The unmitigated cheek!" Then she burst out laughing.

"I wonder," she thought, "whether it's Grace they're so concerned about or just keeping Walter and me apart!" Helen shook her fist at her imaginary opponent. "This is the one time Helen Riley has the guile to do as she pleases!"

It was Dirk who attended to the thousand and one little errands and smoothed the way for Helen to sail on April thirtieth. Dirk, Marian Crable, Belle, Mr. and Mrs. Terhune and Helen's cousins from Brooklyn were at the boat to see them off. Not one of the Rileys appeared. Irene sent an apologetic telegram from Greenwich. She had gone up for a few days to see about renting a summer place and had forgotten the sailing date. The others, Helen felt, simply couldn't bear to see her go off on a pleasure jaunt.

Dirk and his parents stayed with Helen until the boat sailed at noon.

They were sitting chatting in the salon when Agnes suddenly rushed in, her face covered with a fine sweat, her hair disheveled. Helen had never seen her look so wild.

"How sweet of you to come, Agnes. How are you?"

"I'm all right. Hello, Dirk. How do you do, Mrs. Terhune. Is Irene here?"

"No, she's in Greenwich. I just had a wire from her. She couldn't get back in time."

"Oh, I see. Just Dirk is here!"

"He's here with his parents. They are going back with him. The 'all ashore' signal will be given in a few seconds but I think I can still persuade the steward to get you a cold drink."

"Don't bother," she snapped. "I won't wait. There was something I wanted to see. I saw it with my own eyes. That's all. Oh, here's a little book for Grace. Goodbye."

She rushed off, leaving Helen staring after her.

"She's dreadfully neurotic," Helen apologized, resuming her seat.

"She's dreadfully rude," Mrs. Terhune said bluntly. "I don't think I've ever seen an exhibition of worse manners."

"Don't mind her. Mother Terhune. She's more sinned against than sinning. She has a young husband and she's insane with jealousy and fear that she'll lose him."

"Curiously enough she's doing the very thing to drive him away," Dirk mused.

Followed five months of thrilling experiences; new sights, new faces, London with its foggy, sooty smell; Paris with its particular smell, its dirty alleys and splendid wide boulevards. They left Anastasia and her nurse and Fredericks and the baby in a clean, cool hotel at Nuremberg and rather guiltily set off by themselves from Paris to Milan, Venice, Trieste.

Helen loved Vienna where they arrived in June but then they got to Germany—her father's beloved Germany—Munich, Nuremberg and finally Berlin, and here Helen found herself. German, which she hadn't spoken since her parents died, came to her as naturally as breathing. Walter marveled at her "at home-ness" in little German restaurants and at big splendid ones—Borchardt's, the Bristol, the Kaiserhof. Her face looked more Gretchen-like than ever. She ate and drank with zest; unashamedly she watched her body take on the thick lines of approaching motherhood. The good burghers loved her. She was a glorious personification of a happy, glowing, expectant fruit.

They came back late in August to Nuremberg a little shamed at having stayed away so long but bursting with good spirits and good cheer and good food to find that Anastasia hadn't particularly missed them; that Grace had thrived and that Fredericks and Anastasia's nurse, Miss Ochs, had converted the whole hotel to playing bridge.

They made a brief trip to Poland to find that Anastasia was completely apathetic toward her grandfather's farm. She found no one she remembered, and considered the trip into Poland a waste of good time and money.

Helen would have liked to stay on in Europe forever but as she entered her ninth month, Walter became apprehensive.

"We'd better go home," he decided regretfully.

"Yes, I guess we had better. I want the baby to be born in New York, but, oh, Walter, I could stay here forever and ever. I feel as if I've come home and now I have to go away again."

"So do I. But I've been away nearly six months, Helen. I've never done such a thing before. Lord knows how the business is getting on."

"But it must have gone on! Still, I guess we must go back. Oh, Walter, it's been heavenly. Thank you, thank you for it all!"

He kissed her. "It's been the happiest time of my life," he told her.

They arrived in New York on the ninth of September. On the twenty-seventh Helen gave birth to a nine-pound boy. He was christened Walter Junior.

A few weeks after the baby was born, Helen was herself again but she was a new Helen. Even Walter sensed the change in her. Five months of travel and sightseeing away from the nagging beat of his sisters and their constant interference had given Helen a poise

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

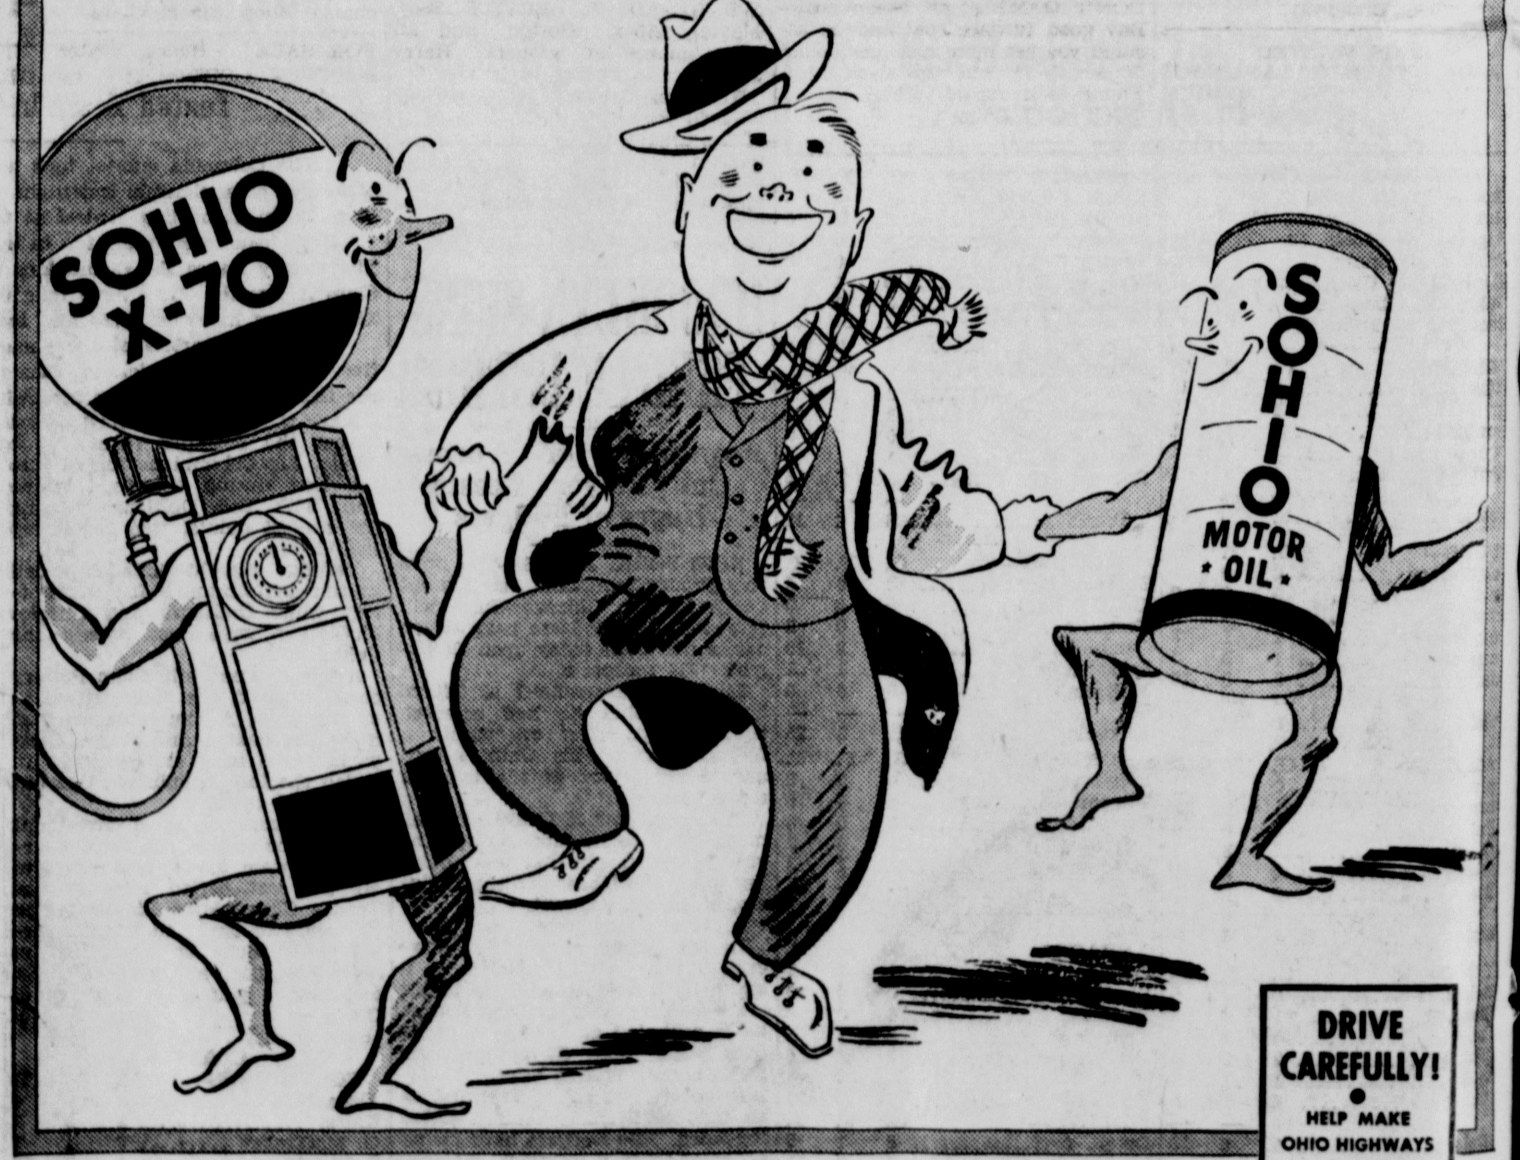

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

"When Old Man Winter hit these parts he found me fixed for easy starts"

IF YOU'RE TIRED of coaxing a stubborn motor to get up and go—if you are tired of grinding away on your starter until you pull down your battery—here's something you'll want to know!

We have stepped up the firing qualities of X-70 gasoline until it kicks over your motor at the flash of the spark. And we have made SOHIO Motor Oil an oil that hardly seems to know when winter comes! This new SOHIO is always light enough to let the coldest of cold motors spin! Yet, it has the "body" that an oil must have to fight heat and wear.

Yes sir! With X-70 gasoline and SOHIO Motor Oil, you have a combination that gets you going in a hurry. And it's a combination that keeps you going at the lowest possible cost. Then, too, X-70 users avoid carbon trouble because X-70 has contained anti-carbon solvent since 1932.

X-70 sells at "regular gas" price, and SOHIO Motor Oil is only a quarter a quart (Plus Tax).

"Strip Poker Caused Slaying",

David Ashcraft

Mrs. Ashcraft

Mental torture resulting from being a helpless witness to strip poker parties between his wife and male guests was cited by counsel in defense of David Ashcraft, 45, a paralytic on trial at Washington, D. C., charged with holding his sleeping son over an open gas burner until he was dead. Ashcraft explained his act by testifying that he could not bear to see his son reared in such an atmosphere.

For Bronchitis Coughs, Colds

Acts Like a FLASH

It's different—it's faster in action—it's compounded on superior, medical fact findings new in this country.

Buckley's Mixture (triple acting) is the name of this amazing cough and cold prescription that is so pure and free from harmful drugs that a child can take it—and stop coughing.

One little sip and the ordinary cough is eased—a few doses and that tough old hang-on cough is seldom heard again—it's really wonderful to watch how speedily hard, lingering colds are put out of business.
